KYLE R. BLACKMER JOINS OTTEN JOHNSON

Denver, Colorado – Otten Johnson Robinson Neff + Ragonetti PC (Otten Johnson) is pleased to announce the addition of Kyle R. Blackmer as an associate. Kyle represents clients in a variety of real estate and real estate finance transactions. He currently focuses on representing lenders on loans involving all types of real estate, including multi-family housing, mixed-use, office, and retail. Kyle received his JD from the University of Colorado Law School in 2011.

Prior to joining the firm, Kyle served as a judicial clerk to the Honorable Judge Lewis T. Babcock of the U.S. District Court for the District of Colorado. While in law school, Kyle was editor-in-chief of the University of Colorado Law Review, and he was selected by the law school to tutor property law to first year law students. Before law school, Kyle was a researcher for Jim Collins, the best-selling author of Good to Great. Kyle worked on Mr. Collins' books How the Mighty Fall: And Why Some Companies Never Give In (2009) and Great By Choice: Uncertainty, Chaos, and Luck—Why Some Thrive Despite Them All (2011).

“We’re pleased Kyle has joined the firm,” remarked Jim Johnson, Otten Johnson’s managing director. “I’m certain his legal skills and business acumen will make him a very successful attorney.”
